 Named Awards

Michael J. Shaara Undergraduate Research and Creative Activity Award--This award was established by FSU alumnus, Linda Lewis in memory of Pulitzer Prize winning author, Michael J. Shaara who taught at Florida State University from 1961-1973 and made a lasting impact on her life. Shaara was awarded the Pulitzer Prize in 1975 for his novel, The Killer Angels which is historical fiction about the Battle of Gettysburg and the Civil War. This award is for a student majoring in English or Creative Writing.

David B. Ford Undergraduate Research and Creative Activity Award--Named for David B. Ford of New York, New York who is currently the President of DBF Associates, a private investment firm, and Senior Advisor to Gatemore Capital Management, LLC, a private wealth and institutional investment management firm. This award is open to all majors.

Scott and Ina McNichols Undergraduate Research Award--Scott and Ina McNichols are both FSU alumni who have a deep desire to support research which provides an enriching experience for the student engaged in research who wants to better the community around them. This award is open to all majors.

Helen Louise Lee Undergraduate Research Award--This award was established by Dr. Jim Lee in memory of his mother Helen who was a proponent of higher education and the ways it can help students enhance their lives. This award is for a student majoring in Biology.

Nancy Casper Hillis and Mark Hillis Undergraduate Research Award--Mark and Nan Hillis are vibrant FSU supporters who want to support undergraduate research that embodies the Unconquered Seminole spirit. This award is open to all majors.

Dr. Jack Saltiel Undergraduate Research Award--Dr. Jack Saltiel is a long time Chemistry professor at FSU who has made an impact on many of his students during his over 50 years at FSU. One such student that was affected by Dr. Saltiel's research and teaching with Dr. Mark Wrighton, who established this award in his honor. This award is for a student majoring in Chemistry.

John W. Day III Undergraduate Research Award--John and Sally Day are retired educators and John is a two-time FSU alumnus who have long been fascinated by history and lifelong learning. They established their award to support students whose research is in the field of History, though they do not have to necessarily be History majors.

Steve Madden Undergraduate Research Award--Steve is an FSU graduate in Engineering who is supportive of students finding their passion in the STEM field and his award is open to majors in the STEM field.

Phi Eta Sigma Undergraduate Research Award--Phi Eta Sigma Freshman Honor Society established an undergraduate research award to support the students who are members of the honor society in their research endeavors. This award is for Phi Eta Sigma members in good standing.

Fred and Debbie Tresca Global Scholars IDEA Grant--Fred and Debbie are both FSU graduates whose international experience in the former Soviet Union shaped their world view and solidified their desire for students to travel overseas to developing countries through the Global Scholars Program. This award is to support students engaged in the Global Scholars Program.

Garnet and Gold Scholar Society IDEA Grant--This research award supports students who have submitted their intent to participate and selected research as one of their three engagement areas.

 Project Description

Project Title _____

Department in Which Research Will Be Conducted _____

Abstract or Summary of Proposal (limit to 200 words) _____

 Project Proposal (800 word limit)

Present a plan for a project that you will pursue over the summer. Your proposal should describe the problem to be investigated, the hypothesis to be tested, the idea/initiative to be developed/evaluated, or the creative endeavor to be undertaken and include a timeline. Describe how you chose your supervising professor and how you expect to work with him/her (and community partner organization, if applicable). If you are doing a project in partnership with a community organization, the proposal should also outline the community organization's need and how your project will address this need, as well as the organization's willingness to have you execute the project.

Group Projects: If the group plans to have a prearranged division of labor for aspects of the project, please outline the details of the arrangement in the proposal.

You don't need to include references, but if you do, they will not count as part of your word count. And remember, non-specialists will be reviewing your application, so make sure it is understandable to people outside your discipline!

 Proposed Budget (250 word limit)

Please prepare a budget for your project (e.g., airfare, food and lodging/living expenses, supplies/materials, visas, travel insurance, pre-trip vaccinations, lost income from not working during the summer, etc.) as an itemized list. Your budget cannot include tuition.

 Inclusion of Human Subjects (if applicable; 250 word limit)

If your research involves human subjects (as defined by FSU's Institutional Review Board), please identify the participants (e.g., vulnerable populations) you hope to recruit for your project as categorized by FSU's Institutional Review Board. Please outline the methods you intend to use to protect them. Projects subject to IRB review must receive committee approval before data collection begins. It is not expected that you have already submitted an application for IRB approval prior to submitting your application for this summer research award. Your faculty mentor should offer guidance in this process, and IRB offers additional training and assistance.

 Are you are doing research in partnership with a community partner organization (e.g., a school in Uganda, an arts organization, a start-up business, etc.)?

- Yes
